KING CHARLES OF ROUMANIA PASSES SAYS VIENNA WIRE

Was Elected to the Throne With Hereditary Succession in 1866

HAD ROMANTIC COURTSHIP MARRIED TO CARMEN SYLVA

Prince Ferdinand, Under Age, Will be Next Ruler of Unruly Kingdom

Amsterdam, Oct. 10.—A despatch received here from Vienna says that King Charles of Roumania died this morning.

Charles I. of Roumania was born April 26, 1839, the second son of Prince Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen, head of the second of the non-reigning branches of the princely house of Hohenzollern. He was elected to the throne of Roumania with hereditary succession on April 8, 1866, at the age of 27 years. At that time Charles was a sub-lieutenant in the Prussian dragoon. It was said at the time that his candidature for the throne, which had become vacant by the abdication of Prince Alexander John, was proposed by Prussia and supported by her diplomatic agents.

Charles was a man of firm character and though his reign was marked by many internal dissensions, some of them bordering on revolt, the king usually emerged from his troubles successfully. During the more than years that he ruled the little kingdom of 6,000,000 people he showed himself to be a great soldier, a clever statesman and a popular sovereign.

King Charles took a prominent part in the war between Roumania and Turkey in 1877. He held the nominal command of the army of the west, and he fought at Pleven with great gallantry, and suffered heavy losses. Charles received, in acknowledgment of his services, the Cross of St. George.

Princess Elizabeth von Newwied, to whom Charles was married November 15, 1869, is known to the world over by her pen name of "Carmen Sylva." One of their courtiers has written like a page out of a romance. His majesty was calling at the castle of a Roumanian nobleman, on proceeding to the young girl who was coming down, missed her footing and fell into his arms. The girl was the future Queen of Roumania.

Shibe Park, Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—The Boston National league champions won the second game of the world's series today by beating the Philadelphia Athletics 1 to 0. It was a thrilling fight to the finish and Boston did not put their run over until the ninth inning. A double by Deal, substituting for Smith at third, followed by his steal of third and Mann's single brought in Boston's run.

The Athletics threatened in the ninth inning, having a man on first and second with only one out, but a deft double play engineered by Maranville ended the Athletics' chances. James' pitching was simply baffling, the Athletics being helpless before his speed and fast breaking spitter. Both clubs fielded brilliantly, Maranville and Barry's play being especially brilliant. After the game the Boston rooters, led by President Gaston, roared at home. Captain Johnson, Evers and former Mayor Fitzgerald, of Boston, paraded around the field while the crowd played the Boston battle song, "Tessie." The club leaves for Boston tonight. The world series now stands Boston, Nationals 2; Philadelphia Athletics 0.

The official box score:
Boston, 1; Philadelphia Athletics, 0.
Mann, 1b, 2; Evers, 2b, 0; Deal, 3b, 0; Maranville, 4b, 0; Barry, 5b, 0; Smith, 6b, 0; James, 7b, 0; Plank, 8b, 0; Schang, 9b, 0.

smooth over the rupture. Ferdinand, in love with his wife, naturally took her side, and did not by his action add much to the affection of his future subjects.

Ferdinand and Marie have been boundedly blessed with children. They have four now—Carol, the heir apparent; Elizabeth, Marie and Nicholas. They form admittedly the handsomest quartet of children in Europe's royal families.

"Prince Ferdinand is believed to be a victim of consumption, which must prove of March 18, 1889, in his nephew Prince Ferdinand, but he is so recovered from the direct line that the Roumanian's place, little reliance in him.

The original heir to the throne was Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen, a brother of King Charles. It had been confidently expected by the Roumanians that Leopold would take the reins of government, and they were content, but Leopold had no inclination for the direction of his life and declined the place of heir and appointed in his stead his son, Prince Wilhelm.

Paris Official Report Says Material Progress Made at St. Mihiel

RUSSIANS TAKE TOWN OF LYCK IN EAST PRUSSIA

Paris, Oct. 10.—The official report says:

"To the north of the Oise, our troops have attained real advantages at several places in their zone of action. In the region of St. Mihiel, we have made material progress.

"As to Belgium it is announced that Antwerp was taken yesterday. The conditions under which this place was occupied by the enemy are not, however, known.

In Russia very spirited fighting continues on the frontier of East Prussia where Russian troops have had partial successes. They have occupied the town of Lyck in East Prussia.

"The siege of Branyol continues under conditions unfavorable for the Russians, who have taken by assault the town of Branyol in East Prussia.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Philadelphia—Barry threw out Mann at first. Schang got a two-bagger to left. It was the Athletics' first hit. He was almost caught at second but a good slide saved him. Schang was out when the ball got away from Gowdy, who quickly cut the ball and threw the Athletics' catcher on his third. Maranville threw out Plank. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Seventh Inning
Boston—James struck out for the third time. Mann struck out. Schang hit. Maranville struck out. Evers. No runs, no hits, no errors.

THOUGHT ALLIES WILL EASILY BE ABLE TAKE CITY

Much of Intrinsic Value of Captured Robbed by Get-away of Soldiers Defending Place—Forts Six Miles East Still Said to be Intact and Duel There Reported to be Proceeding—Battle Line in France Now Stated to be 350 Miles Long—All Stories Coincide Regarding Terrible Suffering of Unfortunates.

London, Oct. 10.—Antwerp has fallen into the hands of the Germans, with the exception of a few outlying forts which cannot affect the outstanding facts, but its capture, important and stirring as it has been, was robbed of much of its intrinsic value, it is contended here, by the escape of the garrison.

The defenders, it appears, held on long enough to enable them to take full stock of the situation and evacuate the citadel when it became evident that the doom of the town was sealed. Toward the close of the defense only a sufficient garrison to work the remaining available guns was left to hold Antwerp.

FULL SURRENDER OF CITY.
At mid-day on Friday the advance force of the Germans entered Antwerp and the full surrender of the city evidently occurred at half past two in the afternoon. Beaten back from their last defenses the Belgians blew up their heavy batteries and withdrew to rejoin their comrades, who previously had evacuated their position.

The forts around Antwerp, six miles southeast of Antwerp, are said to be still intact and the duel between them and the German artillery is reported as still proceeding this (Saturday) morning. The outcome cannot be in doubt, it having been conclusively proved in the past two months that permanent forts in an exposed situation stand no chance against modern siege howitzers.

CATHEDRAL NOT DAMAGED.
The real extent of the destruction within the walls of Antwerp will be slow in reaching the outside world. From the Hague it is asserted that the cathedral of Notre Dame has not been damaged. The museums and the other public buildings also may have escaped.

The strategic importance of Antwerp to the Germans arose largely from the fact of its position to their line of communication. With the Belgian army withdrawn to a position half way between Antwerp and Ostend, the pressure on these lines will be removed at least temporarily.

It is assumed in London that if Germany considers it convenient to her plans of campaign she will not hesitate to utilize the neutral waters of the Scheldt, but except as a submarine base, it is contended that she can derive no advantage from it.

CIVIL POPULATION FLEES.
London, Oct. 10.—Antwerp, the last and strongest citadel of Belgium, has fallen before the rage of huge shells which the Germans began throwing into the city at midnight of last Wednesday. The civilian population of the city has, in large part, fled. The seat of the Belgian government has been moved to Ostend and the Germans are in occupation. Because of the chaotic conditions during the past few days in the beleaguered city and the interruption of telegraphic communication, there has been much delay in the transmission of news from Antwerp to England. Nevertheless, England has been expecting and discounting the fall of the Belgian position and newspapers are speculating on what strategic use the Germans will make of it now that it is in their hands.

350 MILES' BATTLE LINE.
The battle line in France is now so long—farming as it does a rough course of 350 miles—from Lorraine to the Belgian frontier—that the battle of the Aisne and the operations before Antwerp had become so closely knit from a military point of view as to be almost inseparable.

The hope of the allies to deliver a crushing blow against the German army in France before the occupation of Antwerp by the enemy is now, of course, a thing of the past. The German army, it is estimated, is now apparently still intact and the official communication given out in Paris last night recorded no change in the situation, merely emphasizing the statement that there was a sharp fighting in the region of Remy, nearly 100 miles south of the northern extremity of the fighting line, where opposing bodies of cavalry were clashing almost within sight of the North sea.

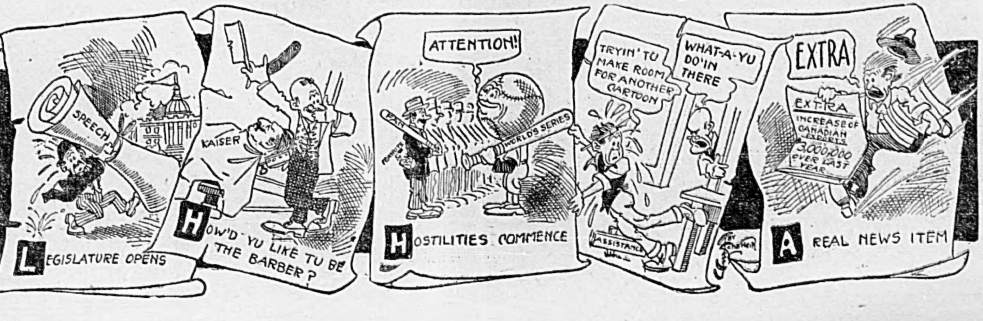

WHAT USE BEYOND?
Commenting on the situation in Belgium it was known officially that Antwerp had actually fallen, English newspapers asked this morning with optimism what the consequences were going to be for Antwerp when they had particularly in view the fact that it is contended that no fort can stand against artillery such as is used in modern warfare. The opinion was generally expressed that if the allies later attack Antwerp there will be a repetition of what has already taken place, that is to say, the German garrison could not hold out against them.

SWEET NORTHERN FRANCE.
Despatches attempting to analyze the German plan of campaign, with Antwerp in their hands, declare that the German purpose is to sweep over northern France with the object of taking possession of the channel ports and thus creating the warfare in the Channel. It is estimated that no fort can stand against the use of this northern Belgian position as a base for operations against England.

HOW CANADA COULD BE ENRICHED OUT OF SALVAGE FROM THE WRECK OF A CONTINENT

Thousands of refugees from ravaged Belgium are fleeing their stricken homes to temporarily find places of safety in Holland and Britain. About these people a world has come tumbling down. Little more than two months ago they were pursuing their placid avocations in a balcyon land, undisturbed by the thought of war, enjoying the feeling of security which flourishes amid the virtues of industry and good-will toward the world. By the ravaging horrors of an inhuman war, all these conditions of a life-time are swirled into the vortex and completely destroyed. Today thousands flee in white-lipped terror, exiled to a strange land, their pitiful salvage from a destroyed civilization held in the bedraggled little bundles they clutch in trembling hands. Three thousand of them, the despatches say, reached Folkestone yesterday to be taken in charge by a committee whose ministrations, no matter how humane, must take the form of charity.

Herein is represented the greatest tragedy of the age. To attempt its description would bankrupt the language of superlatives. Adequate understanding of the depth of misery so ruthlessly thrust upon these unoffending people is provisionally denied those to too great distance to be brought into contact therewith. But the debt which the Anglo-Saxon race owes the heroic Belgians for their self-sacrifice is out of all proportion to any recompense which can be made through sympathetic relief of their immediate suffering.

The British people stand under obligation to honor a draft in sympathy to the ultimate limit in which it is possible for us to assist in the restoration of these people's happiness. In the devastating shock of war each of these Belgians has lost a fireside and all that it means. The hours cannot be recalled to erase the anguish which they have suffered, but Canada is a great broad and fertile land extending a constant invitation to industry such as theirs. We can offer them new homes.

Canada can, if she will, discharge this much of the empire's obligation—a debt of honor made more binding by the circumstance that it has not even a scrap of paper to manifest its existence. Canada can, if she will, bring these people across the ocean at the public expense to set them down in the fertile west; this dominion can equip homes for them and extend the paternal hospitality of the state in providing them with a new start in life in a happier scene where their characteristic industriousness will quickly surround them with comforts and ultimately add enormously to the aggregate of Canada's production of wealth.

Such an order would be a large one for times of peace, but we are now in the throes of a new condition brought about through the existence of war. To carry it through extraordinary provision would have to be made. Ships would have to be chartered, adequate accommodation provided against their arrival, transportation facilities commandeered, an enormous area of suitable land set aside by national purchase, housing furnished, stock, utensils, clothing and equipment bought, maintenance provided and special banking arrangements made by which the state could carry in the interim whatever of the cost a generous decency ultimately decided to designate as partaking of the character of a loan.

To carry out such an order would require an organization with an efficiency and precision such as Canada does not possess at the present time, and considerate regard for the human element entering into the movement. But with the machinery which the war unfolds in the transporting of enormous bodies of men, in the efficiency of the commissariat and in the precision with which the state conducts whatever affairs it takes into its hands, it would be strange indeed if Canada, so far removed from the theatre of war, could not fulfill such an order at such a time.

To commit the country to such an order would require a daring statesmanship upon the part of our public men and relegation to the background of all thought of speculative or political profit. But as recompense to those who relinquished the opportunity for aggrandizement which accompanies the normal immigration movement there would be the consideration that the country had gained enormously through the salvage of the wreck of a continent of some hundreds of thousands of the most intrinsic people of the earth; a people so desirable that Canada would be enriched as she welcomed them, even though they brought nothing but themselves and the poor bedraggled bundles clutched in trembling hands.

ONE ZEPPELIN GOOD FOR HALF A MILLION RECRUITS.

While the fall of Antwerp is undoubtedly the greatest military disaster so far to the fortunes of the allies, it will at least have the compensating feature that it will lead to an earlier termination of the war by waking residents of the British capital to a full significance of what they are up against.

In the early stages of the war recruiting was astonishingly, not to say shockingly, slow in London. Sam Blythe, in the Saturday Evening Post has told of how Londoners never seemed to realize that they were in a serious war until the news was flashed on the screen one night that two thousand of the expeditionary force had been killed. Such a mental condition in a city like London, so close to the scene of actual hostilities, seems remarkable at this distance, but allowance must be made for the self-sufficient outlook of the residents of the largest cities. In this respect all large cities are the same. To the New Yorkers, nothing happens in United States off Manhattan Island. To the Londoners, the large affairs of the empire have to have a London sitting before they become sufficiently glaring to attract attention. The large picture of a world-encircling empire is seen in better perspective from Edmonton than from behind a retail counter in London.

But Antwerp is a base from which Zeppelins may fly. One of these, seen over London, would be good for a half a million recruits.

ELECTORS NOT CONSIDERED.

In the selection of Hon. W. H. Hearst, minister of lands and mines, as premier of the province of Ontario, that province is being given an exemplification of the extent to which the party system can be depended upon in a tight place to ignore the public so long as it suits the convenience of the party.

Ontario had, as competitors to fill the shoes of the late Sir J. P. Whitney, two men in the cabinet of outstanding ability, W. J. Hanna and Adam Beck. Upon the former, by any reference to popular opinion, the leadership would have been conferred. But there was a situation which made the claims of the latter so strong that to select the former might have proven embarrassing for the inner circle of the dominant party. To avoid this situation a caucus of the inner circle names a man new to the government and comparatively unknown, so far as competency for leadership is concerned. In making the selection the preferences of the great mass of electors who placed the government in power are not even considered.

THE MOTHERS OF MEN

(By Joaquin Miller)
 The bravest battle that ever was fought!
 Shall I tell you where and when?
 On the maps of the world you will find it not—

"The fought by the mothers of men,
 Nay, not with cannon or battle shot,
 With sword and spear and bayonet
 Nay, not with eloquent words or thought—

From months of wonderful men,
 But deep in the walled-up woman's heart—
 Of woman that would not yield,
 But bravely, silently, bore her part—

Lo, there is that battlefield!
 No marching troop, no blivious song,
 No banner to stream and wave,
 But, oh! their battles, they last

Yet faithful still as a bridge of stars,
 From holyhood to the grave,
 She fights in her walled-up town—
 Fights on and on in endless wars—

Then, silent, unseen, goes down,
 Oh, ye with banners and battle shot,
 And soldiers to shout and praise,
 I tell you the kindest victories fought

Were fought in those silent ways,
 Oh, spotless women in a world of shame,
 With splendid and silent scorn
 Go back to God as you can—
 The kindest warrior born!

Belgian Queen in England.
 London, Oct. 10.—The queen of the Belgians is reported to have passed through Folkestone from Antwerp last night, proceeding to London. The greatest secrecy is maintained regarding the movements of her majesty.

Antwerp's Strength.
 The fortifications of Antwerp are generally considered as among the most modern and most invulnerable in the world, but against them are being brought to bear the specimens of the gunmaker's skill. Something of the defenses of this important city, which is being invested by the Germans, is told by Major Pluckowski, an expert representative of the great Krupp works, at Essen, Germany, in an article specially written for the war issue of the Scientific American of October 3, in which he says:

"Antwerp has always been a fortress and its history is full of fighting and sieges. But now its fortifications count among the most modern, and are considered an example of the present state of the military engineer's art and science. Their designer and builder, General A. H. Brialmont, the Belgian engineer and writer on fortifications, has made himself famous not only by his work for the strongholds of Antwerp, but by his planning and building the defenses of Bucharest, the capital of Roumania, and of Lige and Namur, His close connection and friendship with Col. M. Schimmelpenninck of the Prussian works of Magdeburg in Germany enabled him to introduce iron and steel batteries and turrets into his fortifications, and these modern constructions probably will now have their first test in real warfare. I may say here that modern ordnance and gunnery have made great progress in the last 30 years, since Antwerp's ramparts and forts were built, as they are now, so that it is quite doubtful whether they would prove formidable and make the siege a long one. The range and power of penetration and accuracy of modern ordnance is far superior to what it was when the forts at Antwerp, in 1835, and at Spiez, Italy, in 1856, spread the fame of the so-called Gribeauville turrets, which form the citadelle of the Antwerp forts, and which were then adopted by the military engineers of Germany, Austria, Italy, Belgium, Roumania, Switzerland, and Holland."

Big Eaters Get Kidney Trouble.
 The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with waste matter, which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to wet your bed two or three times during the night; if you suffer with Sick headache or dizziness, nervous spells, indigestion, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache

ADVISES PEOPLE WHO HAVE FRIENDS AT THE FRONT SEND CLOTHING

To The Editor of The Capital:

Kindly grant me space in your valuable daily for the advice of people who have husbands, sweethearts or brothers who are dear to them and to us, fighting for our good and just cause, for them to forward, if possible, good underwear, thick woolen socks, sweaters, warm woolen gloves, to them, addressed in full, their rank, and if advised, I think the Canadian commissioner, Hon. Percy, resident in London, will do all that lies in his power, to see that the person they are addressed to, receives same, as our soldiers will, as I have found out myself, feel the cold weather much more on the continent than here, because the climate is much damper, and I can assure you thick woolen apparel will be needed and appreciated by all.

Before closing this letter, I must say a few words in regard to the grand spirit of Belgians residing in our town, towards their unfortunate brothers. One phoned me yesterday, and requested me to sell his stock at any price, as he wished to forward the money for same to the Belgian relief fund; yesterday another Belgian lady residing in the west end, advised me to call, as she had purchased underwear for women and children, Belgian refugees, with the money she had received from the sale of her lot. She requested me to wait for three days longer, as she would like to purchase, if possible, more children's clothes. I shall hand same over to Mr. Kinpe, the Belgian consul, C.P.R. building, where any one who is anxious to assist may forward contributions, which will be greatly appreciated.

Thanking you, BERT PINCH, 2123 Henry Street.

HAZZA ON NOVELTIES IN PICTURE HOUSES

John Hazza, the enterprising manager of the Bijou theater, was telling all about the origin and the growth of the wonderfully successful novelty attractions, such as "The Country Store" and "Amateur Night," that have brought to the favorite 101st street picture house so many new and satisfied patrons.

"It represents on our part a long study of the desires of the picture-going folk of the city," said he, "and was no hap-hazard guess, but after much observation, including my own personal observation of some of the heaviest patronized picture houses in eastern Canada and some of the large cities of the states, we tried out the amateur stuff. We tried to put it on properly, furnishing the embryonic players with a full stage and complete stage equipment and everything else, as the professional performers have, and it was a brilliant success almost from the very start. Now it could hardly, I believe, be taken off. Later we presented for the first time in this city, 'The Country Store.' This was a distinct novelty. We were favored with a large stage and proper settings to stage as vividly as possible the interior of a typical country store, and, after its trial period, this also has proved a huge success with our patrons."

Then Mr. Hazza went on to show the large expense these attractions incurred, "but they are worth every cent put into them," he added "for our patrons richly enjoy the sport, it is original and they cannot get it elsewhere."

Then he concluded with the statement that next Thursday night the newest novelty would be given to the Bijou patrons. It was only an experiment but he wanted the people to see whether they would enjoy it sufficiently to make it a regular Thursday night attraction.

"The Fish Pond," it is called. To the lucky fishermen valuable prizes will be given. Fish and fish-poles will be furnished by the management, so it will not be necessary to bring your favorite wad with you, for all of them furnished are said to be blessed by the same charm and all the fish trained not to play partial.

If "The Fish Pond" meets with the same favor as "Amateur Night" and "Country Store" the Bijou can place to its credit another night of packed, and most enthusiastically satisfied houseful of patrons.

FAMOUS STORY IN EXPRESS FILMS

Said by many of the greatest moving picture reviewers to be the most artistic motion picture production released, "Last Days of Pompeii" comes as the extra special attraction for two days.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

When cross, feverish and sick give "California Syrup of Figs"

Children love this "Fruit Laxative," and nothing else cleanses so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is that they become lightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well-playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups. Always printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

VICTORIA HIGH SCHOOL BEATS SOUTH SIDE BOYS

Win 6 to 2—Regain Possession of the Rutherford Soccer Trophy—Win Was in Nature of Surprise, Large Crowd Present at the Contest.

By the score of 6 to 2, the Victoria high school yesterday defeated the Strathcona high school and by so doing took possession of the Rutherford football shield. The victory was unexpected in some quarters as the Strathconas had the advantage in weight and height.

The south side boys started to force at the kickoff but could not hold the pace. The Victoria forwards got away and Camis registered. A little later the same player repeated the performance and when half time was called the north side boys had things

RUGBY TEAMS ARE WORKING HARD FOR INITIAL CONTEST

Putting Finishing Touches on Practices—Large Crowd Should Attend

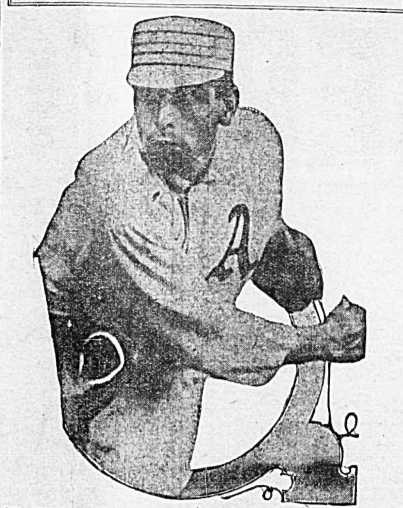

Both the Civics and Varsity are putting in the finishing touches on their practices in preparation for the opening game on Thanksgiving Day.

The Civics had their last hard practice yesterday and this afternoon will have a light workout, after which, in all probability, the team will be selected.

There were 18 players in attendance at yesterday's practice, all of whom have worked hard and faithfully. They are shaping up well and some of them have been trained for several positions as there are hardly enough in the squad to make two teams.

The officials for Monday's contest have not yet been selected, but it is probable that Percy Hardisty will be one of the men to handle the whistle. A large crowd is expected at Diamond park on Monday to see the initial rugby contest of the season.

COAST COMMENT ON MANN TROPHY

Do Not Think They Were Given Fair Shake by Joe Lally.

Did Joe Lally, self appointed chairman of the board of trustees for the D. D. Mann gold cup, exceed his authority when he awarded the trophy and title now held by the V.A.C. team to the Calgary Chinooks? Lacrosse officials and enthusiasts all over the province are asking the question in view of the announcement from Calgary yesterday that Lally had notified that club that the trophy was awarded to them on a technicality, owing to the V.A.C. team having played Reggie Kendall, who held an amateur card, but who was charged by the Alberta Athletic Union officials of being a professional.

Although all data in connection with the Kendall case was committed to the A.A.U. or C. officials at Toronto by Dr. J. G. Davidson, western member of the registration committee, no reply has been received and lacrosse and amateur officials on the coast are inclined to believe that Joe Lally is working off his own bat in declaring the Mann cup forfeited. The amateur union is supreme in all matters affecting individuals or teams, and it is for this organization to bring about a finding with respect to Kendall before any parties can take action.

Until official advice reach the cupholders no action will be taken with respect to Lally's decision. When they come to hand a special meeting of the Pacific Coast League will be called. The B. C. A. U. will also await word from headquarters before calling a meeting.

Seventeen goals to two was the margin by which the Vancouver National lacrosse champions defeated Calgary in the Mann cup series last May, but the weakest team that ever came after the cup has now been placed in the "champion" class by Joe Lally, who alleges that the coast champions transgressed the amateur laws. Thus, players who rank at the bottom of the list become Lally's world's champions. The Mann cup was won by Vancouver in 1911, and since then has been held by the Vancouver A. C. team. Several eastern teams, including Brampton, St. Catharines, Winnipeg, and Calgary, have played for the trophy, but were beaten decisively.

MOTOR CAR BEATS FAST MAIL TRAIN ON AFRICAN ROAD

Races Natal Mail From Johannesburg to Durban and Wins Easily.

VOLUNTARILY STOPPED
SAME AS LOCOMOTIVE

Remarkable Endurance Test in Country Where Roads Are Bad and Sandy

An Overland roadster recently performed the feat of beating the fast Natal mail train on the long trip from Johannesburg to Durban, according to despatches received at the Willys-Overland company from their South African distributors. Despite the hard going encountered throughout the run, the car succeeded in bettering the time of the train by 8 hours and 30 minutes on the round trip of 840 miles.

The train, which was the first authentic run over the long course, created a lasting impression among South African motorists, the majority of whom declared that it could not be accomplished owing to the terrible road conditions. Public magistrates acted as official timers for the event.

A large crowd saw the tiny little Overland and the big mail train leave Johannesburg station at 3 o'clock on a Saturday evening. The car reached Durban, the end of the first lap, at 1:35 o'clock on the following afternoon, five hours ahead of the train, after making stops at all points where the train was scheduled to stop to take on mail or change engines. At 5:45 o'clock on Sunday the automobile and the train left simultaneously for the return trip. The Overland reached Johannesburg at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, three hours ahead of the train, which made much time on schedule.

The distance is equivalent to a trip from New York to Louisville, Ky., which would not be considered particularly noteworthy in the United

"This is why," says Dr. Chusman A. Herriot, president of Girard college.

"Germany is fighting for her existence; France, that she might wipe out the defeat of the past; England, that she might maintain her supremacy gained at Waterloo; Russia, because she sees an opportunity; Austria, that she might have a war; while Switzerland, through it all remains a little armed camp that has prohibited a million soldiers to preserve her neutrality."

Suggests New Use for Tax.

T. Gray Coburn, of Norfolk, Va., figures that, if the license tax paid by the owners of Studebaker cars in and about Norfolk were devoted to local road improvement, the sum would be itself sufficient to provide a complete system of high-grade highways throughout the entire Tidewater Virginia region.

States where automobiles are in general use and roads, for the most part, are in excellent shape. But those who realize the extreme conditions encountered in South Africa declare that the time recorded is remarkable. The roads are rough and sandy, in places becoming merely bush tracks. This in itself discourages long distance automobile runs. In addition, the Overland was delayed by 104 days, marking the boundaries of the large African herds. The driver was forced to bring the car to a dead stop, dismount, drive through, then stop and close the gate before starting on his way. The only involuntary stop was caused by a puncture on famous Mafaba hill.

The run is considered a great test of skill and endurance on the part of the driver, who handled the wheel from start to finish throughout the round trip. From 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon until 2:30 Monday afternoon he was without sleep, having only a short rest of five hours during the two days. The passenger, who accompanied him, was unable to handle a modern car.

The car used is a roadster of standard construction with mudguards, windshields, lights and full equipment throughout.

AUTOMOBILES PLAY BIG PART IN WAR

Germany Has Made Great Use of Automobiles in Present Contest

PLEASURE CARS ARE USED
Scientific American Article
States Benzol or Denatured
Alcohol Good Fuels

Too little credit has undoubtedly been given to the automobile for its part in the effective operation of great armies, as illustrated by the sensational dash into France by the German army; and something of the automobile organization that kept supplies moving, and rushed reinforcements to the points where they were needed, is told in an interesting article in the special war number of the Scientific American of October 3, which contains the following facts:

In Germany, military motor trucks, complete with trailers, to the number of 110 were under study on April 1 this year. In addition, the entire had 14,700 commercial cars, capable of being converted into military vehicles. The order of mobilization placed at the disposal of the German general staff approximately 15,000 delivery cars not counting the trailers. In addition the German army comprised at the beginning of this year the following "special" vehicles: 10 completely equipped motor cars, 1000 complete ambulances, 500 motor-driven cannons, and 4 powerful tractors, which have been especially used in driving the low 42 centimeter siege guns of the artillery. About 200 armored cars, fitted with Maxim guns; 15 scout-like cars, and a number of aeroplanes repair wagons make up the remainder.

The government has commandeered the majority of all the pleasure cars in the empire, amounting to probably 60,000 vehicles, for use by officers at the front, and for rapid communication in the rear of the army. Whole regiments are reported to have been shifted from one point to another by means of the fleets of motor cars to points 60 and 100 miles distant. In addition, the army with the army more than 10,000 cyclists and motorcyclists.

The shortage of gasoline, which has been the subject of much comment in the American daily press during the past week, is of little importance, as all the military vehicles can be run with equal facility on benzol and denatured alcohol, both of which fuels are available in considerable quantity in Germany.

STORY OF EVENTS LEADING TO SIEGE OF BELGIAN CITY

Germans Suggested Belgium
Keep Army in Antwerp
During War.

PROPOSAL INDIGNANTLY
REJECTED BY DEFENDERS

Few Germans Cross River by Swimming But Only to Meet Death.

London, Oct. 10.—(240 a.m.)—The correspondent of the Post at Antwerp in describing the events leading up to the present situation at Antwerp says: "About a month ago the German commanders began to realize the danger of having the Belgian army occupying a fortified position which continually threatened the German lines of communication."

"The Germans threw out feelers to ascertain if Belgium would agree to keep her army in Antwerp in return for the German promise not to attack the town."

Rejected All Proposal
"The Belgians indignantly rejected all such proposals and made it plain that, while, however, failed to completely succeed. The taking of Antwerp renewed the German conviction of the necessity for an energetic campaign against the Belgians which began after further German proposals for an agreement were rejected by the Belgians."

"Accordingly the Germans brought up some of their heavy field pieces and opened with the bombardment of Antwerp. For a week afterward the Germans each day bombarded some open town outside of Antwerp with the idea that the fleeing civil population from these villages would check the morale of the Antwerp garrison."

Fled in Panic
"On Tuesday Fort Woluwe St. Catharine was put out of commission. Later on the same day, Fort Woluwe was damaged and became inoperative. Whatever the German shells struck they destroyed. On Thursday a Zeppelin attack on Antwerp failed. Fort Kessel succeeded in firing into the industrial population lying in a panic at Antwerp. By this time about 60,000 refugees were in Antwerp. Tuesday evening the German infantry attacked Liege, Duffel and Vermonde, only the Duffel attack being successful. Up to this stage confidence had been general but it now be-

Real Riding Comfort

NEW underslung rear springs make the Overland one of the easiest and most comfortable riding cars in the world.

Being unusually long and of a new underslung design these rear springs have unusual flexibility.

The Overland type of rear springs is illustrated above.

See how the springs are placed under the axle; that they are long, have a very wide opening, and are of generous dimensions. Notice that the frame is dropped which makes possible a much lower hung and more graceful body. The road clearance is not affected.

The wide opening of the springs permits great up-and-down play—the maximum of flexibility.

These springs are unusually long; in fact are longer, in proportion to the wheel base, than the springs used on most of the highest priced cars. This means a much more cushioned action.

The Overland swivel seat gives absolutely free movement of the springs, prevents binding and reduces possibility of breakage.

In short the exceptional elasticity of the Overland underslung rear springs makes the car ride with perfect ease and absolute smoothness under all conditions.

Shock absorbers are useless.

The 1915 Overland has grace, style, a beautiful finish, smooth riding qualities and every modern comfort and convenience. It comes complete.

Our dealer will be glad to demonstrate its merits at any time and place you appoint.

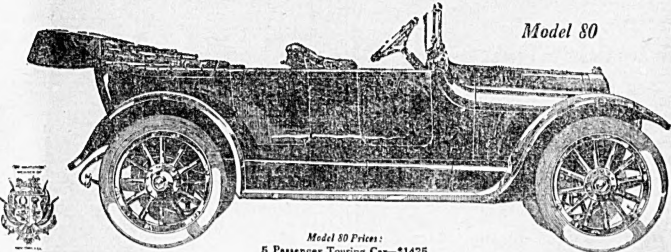

Orders are now being taken for immediate delivery.

EDMONTON IN BRIEF

The usual Scotch Dance will be held in the Separate School hall on Thursday, October 15. Dancing at 9 o'clock. The surplus will be given to the patriotic fund.

According to Edmonton doctors and men who should know, Edmonton's male population has increased since the beginning of the war. In fact, they state that since the beginning of the war not one female child has been born in the city, the reason for this being as they state, the end of the city's great laws, where the mind of the mother is focused strongly upon one subject, the subject in this case being the men gone to the war, and all things pertaining to the war in which so many men are actively taking part. Alderman East will address the members of the Durnell club in the Craikmore block on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock on a commission form of civic government. Ladies and gentlemen interested are respectfully invited to attend.

A. G. Ridgeway will tell the story of the British empire in an address in the auditorium of the old Third street Presbyterian church Sunday at 2:30. A thanksgiving supper will be served by the Ladies aid at the First Scandinavian Lutheran church, corner of Willard and Gallagher streets, near 7th and 8th, on Monday between 5 and 8 p.m.

The members of Acadia Lodge, No. 11, A.P. and A.M., will meet at the Masonic hall, Richards block, Whyte avenue, on Sunday afternoon at 1:45 for the purpose of attending the funeral of the late brother J. G. Tipton. All members of the fraternity are cordially invited.

AUTO TIRES STOLEN IN WEST END, FOUND WITH WELL-KNOWN CITY YOUTH

During the last two weeks there have been a number of complaints from residents in the west end of the city that the extra automobile tires on cars have been stolen, while the machines were standing alone on the curb. A number of detectives were placed on the case and although as yet they have not arrested the thieves they have found some of the missing tires. They were found in the possession of Sam Harmon, well known youth in town. He has been placed under arrest and is facing a charge of having stolen goods in his possession. As yet he has given no explanation as to how he received the tires. He will appear for a preliminary hearing on Saturday, October 16, and by that time it is probable some of the thieves will also be under arrest as the police have some strong clues as to the identity of the culprits.

EDMONTONIAN HAS SAME OPINION OF WAR AS SHERMAN

Emile Paquette, Driven From Paris, Arrives Here With Wife and Child
GRAPHICALLY TELLS HORRORS OF CONFLICT
Germany Will Have to Pay Dearly For Having Aroused British Lion

Compelled to close his house at two hours' notice, and leave it, probably to the tender mercies of the German invader, in order to seek safety for his wife and child, Emile Paquette, a former Edmontonian, who for the past four years has been employed in the Canadian immigration office in Paris, has just returned to the city, having taken passage to Canada on the Canadian Northern liner, Royal Edward. To a Capital reporter who saw him at the hotel here, he painted a vivid word picture of Paris during the days when the enemy was almost at its gates, and when bombs were being dropped by German aviators.

"I was living with my wife and child in the suburb of St. Germain, when, on September 2, I received orders from the military authorities to vacate within two hours, as my home was being hit by the line of fire of both the enemy and of our own outer forts if the Germans advanced any further, as it was expected then they would. I locked the door, and we stepped out with the clothes we wore, and the smallest possible bundle of actual necessities for my wife and child. But it was impossible to find even an empty room at which to stay."

"Accordingly, I took my folks to my office, where for three nights we camped as best we could. It was not only uncomfortable, but it held a spice of danger, for one bomb dropped by a German military aviator fell within 100 yards of the building. They had to admire the daring of that German, especially those who like myself, saw him actually at work. I had a good view of him when he was attempting to hit the St. Lazarus station. At one time, when soldiers on horse tops were gazing at him with rifles he swooped down gracefully to within about 500 feet of the big glass dome, then circled and gradually mounted until he was within the range of both rifles and machine guns which meanwhile had been trained on him. But his aim was not on a par with his daring, for the bomb intended for the big station dropped in the street several hundred yards from him."

"Now, of course, they are better prepared for such visitors, for machine guns have been mounted on church towers and on the top of the Eiffel tower constantly over the city at night. "Men and women stood in the streets and speculated on where the next bomb would be likely to fall, or whether the aviator would be brought down. The women showed more anger than fear, shaking their fists at the apparition in the sky, and shrilly giving their opinion of Germans in general."

"Those of the first draft who went to the front, marched away without the cheer of the crowds, and without the solace of women, there was determination, but no boasting. Those who remained behind got to work at once, preparing for the worst. Harassed, sprung up as though by magic, for they had decided that Paris would have to be fought for inch by inch."

"When General French arrived in the city from England, 200,000 Frenchmen crowded around and cheered him in a most enthusiastic manner. You could hear their singing a mile away, and women fought and struggled for the chance to throw flowers into his carriage or even in front of the horses."

"I saw the first train arrive that brought 3,000 Italian who had fled in terror from the Germans. Some were slightly wounded and nearly all had lost their rifles. The terror in many cases had been frozen into their features."

"We took the train the next day to Dieppe. We found the little town in great excitement. I shall never forget a meal we had there, in a low resort on the water front. Sawdust covered the floor and everything was dirty. On one side of me was an old channel fisherman in ulster, and on the other the most disheveled old British aristocrat, who surveyed the surroundings through his monocle without permitting a muscle of his face to betray his opinion of what he saw."

"I haven't time to tell you all I saw, but I will say I am glad to see Edmonton once again, for things are so different here. What I saw in Paris and in Britain convinced me that there can only be one only victor in this war. Britain is aroused and Germany must pay a heavy price for having aroused her."

BACKS INTO ELEVATOR SHAFT AND IS KILLED

By falling down an open elevator shaft in the Strathcona hospital Friday, Frank Partridge, aged 25, an employee of the hospital, received injuries for which he died without gaining consciousness.

Partridge, who was employed in the kitchen, had left the elevator door open, intending to visit a cart on the elevator. He left the lift and, while gone, it started, some one moved the elevator. Partridge, who was backed into the elevator with the cart, fell a distance of 45 feet, the cart falling on him, crushing him. Assistance was at once given him but little could be done.
Coroner Kaufman decided that an inquest was unnecessary. A sister of the deceased, Mrs. Clarke, living in Montreal, has been communicated with.

ANTWERP FALLS-GERMAN OBJECTIVE NOW SAID TO BE THE CHANNEL PORTS

New Line of Opposing Forces Means that Northern France is Doomed to Suffer Desolation Similar to that Already Visited on Belgium—French General Staff Still Confident, But it is Felt There Can be no Decisive Victory While Masses Engaged Are so Enormous—Must be a Constant Stream of Reinforcements.

The Hague, Oct. 10.—(12:18 p.m.)—Antwerp surrendered to the Germans at 2:30 p.m. Friday, October 9.

The war flag was removed from the cathedral and a white flag raised in its place at 9 a.m. The actual surrender took place five and a half hours later. It is declared here that the cathedral of Notre Dame has not been damaged. The Germans delivered one of their last furious attacks between 6 and 7 o'clock Friday morning. The Belgians resisted them valiantly in the trenches and the desperate fighting resulted in very heavy losses on both sides.

During all the night the fighting was directed to the firing of the German heavy artillery, the results of which were appalling. The German artillery forced its way across the river Scheldt, in which many of the artillery men were drowned. The fighting has been marked for certain destruction and ruin.

The Belgians succeeded in blowing up two and possibly more of their enemy's batteries and heavy artillery.

London, Oct. 10.—The correspondent of the Express in Paris telegraphs the following:

"The immediate objective of the German army is now no longer Paris, but the channel ports. To sum up the German plan, the first blow on Paris has failed, the second blow must be aimed at England."

"The new line-up of the opposing forces means that northern France is destined to suffer a desolation similar to that already visited on Belgium. As France's rich cities in the north have been marked for certain destruction and ruin."

"The French general staff is still confident of success, but it is realized that there can be no decisive victory while the masses engaged are so enormous. It is possible to hope for the defeat of the enemy's plan only if there can be a constant stream of reinforcements."

London, Oct. 10.—(10:27 a.m.)—An official Berlin despatch via Marconi wireless, confirms the report that Antwerp has been captured.

London, Oct. 10.—(12:17 p.m.)—The British war office announces that Antwerp was evacuated by the Belgians yesterday.

The siege of Antwerp which culminated in its fall on Friday, October 9, began on September 29, so that the Germans took ten days to reduce the formidable fortress which surrounded the temporary capital of the Belgians.

The Germans had, however, for a long time previously prepared the way for the attack on Antwerp, taking a number of towns in its vicinity. The first direct attack on the Antwerp fortifications was against the forts at Vrohem and Waverle B. Calverley. These were reduced in a couple of days by the aid of big siege guns. Meanwhile the forts at Lohr and Kinkoynt had also been attacked and these and others of the outside line of fortifications were taken last week.

German Artillery Superior.

The last few days have seen the fighting advance to the inner line of forts and along the Scheldt, principally at Richmond. At the end named place severe fighting occurred for several days, but the superior artillery of the Germans gradually forced the Belgians back until the last day or two the fighting had reached practically to the suburbs of Antwerp.

On Wednesday, October 7, came reports that the Belgian government was moving to Ostend and that day the Belgians reported that the population was fleeing in terror and panic toward the coast. The German forces which had taken Antwerp are said to consist of five corps. They were under the command of General Hans. H. Von Belser, a veteran of the war of 1870, who was taken from his retirement to do the work of reducing Antwerp.

General DeWitte was in command of the Belgian defenders. King Albert aided them by his personal direction almost to the last, having quit Antwerp, according to reports, only yesterday, violating the rule "when the only way was across."

Fear in England.

Antwerp is 180 miles from London and in England the fear has been expressed that with this city as a German base, Zeppelin airships could be used to attack the English coast line and even London. The distance from Antwerp to the English coast is less than the mile.

Antwerp is on the river Scheldt. This river, before it enters the North sea, flows through the Netherlands territory. Under existing conditions it would be impossible for Germany to use Antwerp for a naval base without violating the neutrality of the Netherlands.

What the Theater Press Agents Say

THESE ARE REAL MRS.
WIGGS OF THE CABBAGE PATCH

There is an interesting little bit of history connected with "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," which "The Players" will present as the attraction of the Empire theater the last half of next week with a special matinee on Saturday.

It is possibly not generally known that "Mrs. Wiggs" is a real flesh-and-blood character, who resides in the outskirts of the city of Louisville, Kentucky. Mrs. Alice Segun Rice, the author of the book, was a resident of Louisville and, being interested in efficiency work, came across Mrs.
Wiggs in one of her visits and was so enchanted with the sunny disposition and cheerful optimism of that estimable lady that she asked Mrs. Wiggs' consent to write a book about her. The "Queen of the Cabbage Patch" demurred but, after much persuasion, Mrs. Rice secured her consent on the understanding that she should be allowed to edit the manuscript before it would be published.
No sooner had the book been off the press
a few weeks before the people of Louisville and a big percentage of the visitors to the city regarded their way to the "cabbage patch" to see the flesh-and-blood Mrs.
Wiggs, and the visitors became so fascinated by her sunny disposition and cheerful optimism at times so objectionable that Mrs. Wiggs was driven to desperation and, as a climax, to the manuscript house a writ against Mrs. Rice with the somewhat peculiar charge of defamation of character. Her sunny disposition occasionally became soured by the meddlesome interference of her private affairs by over-inquisitive people and on one occasion she threw a pan of dish-water over one of the curious.

A special feature in connection with this striking will be the re-arrangement of pieces enabling all to see the performance for 10 cents who feel that they cannot afford the time of depression to pay more.
Four hundred seats at 10 cents reserved, and a reduction in the sale of the general public and it is felt that with this big reduction everyone should take the opportunity of seeing the members of this talented company, who have found such favor since their last appearance.

"Stop Thief" is to be played for the last time Saturday night and there is a possibility that the company will take this opportunity seeing the greatest force in a decade.

HOW CANADA COULD BE ENRICHED OUT OF SALVAGE FROM THE WRECK OF A CONTINENT

Thousands of refugees from ravaged Belgium are fleeing their stricken homes to temporarily find places of safety in Holland and Britain. About these people a world has come tumbling down. Little more than two months ago they were pursuing their placid avocations in a halcyon land, undisturbed by the thought of war, enjoying the feeling of security which flourishes amid the virtues of industry and good-will toward the world. By the ravaging horrors of an inhuman war, all these conditions of a life-time are swirled into the vortex and completely destroyed. Today thousands flee in white-tipped terror, exiled to a strange land, their pliant salvage from a destroyed civilization held in the bedraggled little bundles they clutch in trembling hands. Three thousand of them, the despatches say, reached Folkestone yesterday to be taken in charge by a committee whose ministrations, no matter how humane, must take the form of charity.

Herein is represented the greatest tragedy of the age. To attempt its description would bankrupt the language of superlatives. Adequate understanding of the depth of misery so ruthlessly thrust upon these unoffending people is providentially denied those at too great distance to be brought into contact therewith. But the debt which the Anglo-Saxon race owes the heroic Belgians for their self-sacrifice is out of all proportion to any recompense which can be made through sympathetic relief of their immediate suffering.

The British people stand under obligation to honor a draft in sympathy to the ultimate limit in which it is possible for us to assist in the restoration of these people's happiness. In the devastating shock of war each of these Belgians has lost a fireside and all that it means. The hours cannot be recalled to erase the anguish which they have suffered, but Canada is a great big broad and fertile land extending a constant invitation to industry such as theirs. We can offer them new homes.

Canada can, if she will, discharge this much of the empire's obligation—a debt of honor made more binding by the circumstance that it has not even a scrap of paper to manifest its existence. Canada can, if she will, bring these people across the ocean at the public expense to set them down in the fertile west; this dominion can equip homes for them and extend the paternal hospitality of the state in providing them with a new start in life, in a happier scene where their characteristic industriousness will quickly surround them with comforts and ultimately add enormously to the aggregate of Canada's production of wealth.

Such an order would be a large one for times of peace, but we are now in the throes of a new condition brought about through the existence of war. To carry it through extraordinary provision would have to be made. Ships would have to be chartered, adequate accommodation provided against their arrival, transportation facilities commandeered, an enormous area of suitable land set aside by national purchase, housing furnished, stock, utensils, clothing and equipment bought, maintenance provided and special banking arrangements made by which the state could carry in the interim whatever of the cost a generous decency ultimately decided to designate as partaking of the character of a loan.

To carry out such an order would require an organization with an efficiency and precision such as Canada does not possess at the present time, and considerable relief for the human element entering into the movement. But with the marvels which the war unfolds in the transporting of enormous bodies of men, in the efficiency of the commissariat and in the precision with which the state conducts whatever affairs it takes into its hands, it would be strange indeed if Canada, so far removed from the theatre of war, could not fulfill such an order at such a time.

To commit the country to such an order would require a daring statesmanship upon the part of our public men and relegation to the background of all thought of speculative or political profit. But as recompense to those who relinquished the opportunity for aggrandizement which accompanies the normal immigration movement there would be the consideration that the country had gained enormously through the salvage out of the wreck of a continent of some hundreds of thousands of the most intrinsic people of the earth; a people so desirable that Canada would be enriched as she welcomed them, even though they brought nothing but themselves and the poor bedraggled bundles clutched in trembling hands.

ONE ZEPPELIN GOOD FOR HALF A MILLION RECRUITS.

While the fall of Antwerp is undoubtedly the greatest military disaster so far to the fortunes of the allies, it will at least have the compensating feature that it will lead to an earlier termination of the war by waking residents of the British capital to a full significance of what they are up against.

In the early stages of the war recruiting was astonishingly, not to say shockingly, slow in London. Sam Blythe, in the Saturday Evening Post has told of how Londoners never seemed to realize that they were in a serious war until the news was flashed on the screen one night that two thousand of the expeditionary force had been killed. Such a mental condition in a city like London, so close to the scene of actual hostilities, seems remarkable at this distance, but allowance must be made for the self-sufficient outlook of the residents of the largest cities. In this respect all large cities are the same. To the New Yorker, nothing happens in United States off Manhattan Island. To the Londoner, the large affairs of the empire have to have a London sitting before they become sufficiently glaring to attract attention. The large picture of a world-enriching event is seen in better perspective from Edmonton than from behind a retail counter in London.

But Antwerp is a base from which Zeppelins may fly. One of the 2, seen over London, would be good for a half a million recruits.

ELECTORS NOT CONSIDERED.

In the selection of Hon. W. H. Hearst, minister of lands and mines, as premier of the province of Ontario, that province is being given an exemplification of the extent to which the party system can be depended upon in a tight place to ignore the public so long as it suits the convenience of the party.

Ontario had, as competitors to fill the shoes of the late Sir J. P. Whitney, two men in the cabinet of outstanding ability, W. J. Hanna and Adam Beck. Upon the former, by any reference to popular opinion, the leadership would have been conferred. But there was a situation which made the claims of the latter so strong that to select the former might have proven embarrassing for the inner circle of the dominant party. To avoid this situation a caucus of the inner circle named a new man to the government and comparatively unknown, so far as competency for leadership is concerned. In making the selection the preferences of the great mass of electors who placed the government in power are not even considered.

THE MOTHERS OF MEN

(By Joaquin Miller)
 The bravest battle that ever was fought!
 Shall I tell you where and when?
 On the maps of the world you will find it.
 It is not—

"The fought by the mothers of men,
 Not with cannon or battle shot,
 With sword or spear or iron pest!
 Nay, not with eloquent words or thought."

From months of wonderful men,
 That deep in the walled-up woman's heart—
 Of woman that would not yield,
 But bravely, silently, bore her part—

Lo, there is that battlefield!
 No marching troops, no bivouac none,
 No banner to gleam and wave;
 But, oh! their battles, they last
 From Babylon to the grave.

Yet faithful still as a bridge of stars,
 She fights in her walled-up town—
 Flights on and on in endless wars,
 Then, silent, unseen, goes down.
 Oh, ye with banners and battle shout,
 And soldiers to admit and praise,
 I tell you the kindest victories fought
 Were fought in those silent ways.

Oh, spotless woman in a world of shame,
 With splendid and silent scorn
 Go back to God as white as you came—
 The kindest warrior born!

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of bladder irritation or backache

The American men and women must guard against kidney trouble. Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy; full of sediment or you are obliged to urinate two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizziness, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

ANTWERP'S STRENGTH

The fortifications of Antwerp are generally considered as among the most modern and most impregnable in the world, but against them are being brought to bear the specimens of the gunmaker's skill. Something of the defenses of this important city which is being invested by the Germans, is told by Major Florzowski, an expert representative of the great Krupp gun works, at Essen, Germany, in an article specially written for the war issue of the Scientific American of October 3, in which he says:

"Antwerp has always been a fortress and its history is full of fighting and sieges. But now its fortifications count among the most modern, and are considered an example of the present state of the military engineer's art and science. Their designer and builder, General A. H. Brialmont, the Belgian engineer and writer on fortifications, has made himself famous not only by his work for the strongholds of Antwerp, but by his planning and building the defenses of Bucharest, the capital of Roumania, and of Liège and Namur. His close connection and friendship with Col. Max Schiemke, of the German works of Mülheim in Germany enabled him to introduce iron and steel batteries and tunnels into his fortifications, and these modern constructions probably will now have their first test in land warfare. I may say right here that modern ordnance and gunnery have made great progress in the last 30 years, since Antwerp's ramparts and forts were built, as they are now, so that it is quite doubtful whether they would prove formidable and make the siege a long one. The range and power of penetration and accuracy of modern ordnance is far superior to what it was when the forts at Antwerp, in 1832, and at Spiez, Italy, in 1856, spread the fame of the so-called Grasson turret, which form the nucleus of the Antwerp forts, and which were then adopted by the military engineers of Germany, Austria, Italy, Belgium, Roumania, Switzerland, and Holland."

ADVISES PEOPLE WHO HAVE FRIENDS AT THE FRONT SEND CLOTHING

To The Editor of The Capital:
 Kindly grant me space in your valuable daily for the advice of people who have husbands, sweethearts or brothers who are dear to them and to us, fighting for our good and just cause, for them to forward, if possible, good underwear, thick woollen socks, sweaters, warm woollen gloves to them, addressed in full, their rank, and if advised, I think the Canadian commissioner, Hon. Percy, resident in London, will do all that lies in his power, to see that the person they are addressed to, receives same, as our soldiers will, as I have found out myself, feel the cold weather much more on the continent than here, because the climate is much damper, and I can assure you thick woollen apparel will be needed and appreciated by all.

Before closing this letter, I must say a few words in regard to the grand spirit of Belgians residing in our town, towards their unfortunate brothers. One phoned me yesterday, and requested me to sell his shack at any price, as he wished to forward the money for same to the Belgian relief fund; yesterday another Belgian lady residing in the west end, advised me to call, as she had purchased underwear for women and children, Belgian refugees, with the money she had received for sale of a lot. She requested me to wait for three days longer, as she would like to purchase, if possible, more children's clothes. I shall hand same over to Mr. Kimpie, the Belgian consul, C.P.R. building, where many are anxious to assist in any forward contributions, which will be greatly accepted.

VICTORIA HIGH SCHOOL BEATS SOUTH SIDE BOYS

Win 6 to 2—Regain Possession of the Rutherford Soccer Trophy—Win Was in Nature of Surprise—Large Crowd Present at the Contest.

By the score of 6 to 2, the Victoria high school yesterday defeated the Strathcona high school and by so doing took possession of the Rutherford football shield. The victory was unexpected. In some quarters the Strathconas had the advantage in weight and height.

The south side boys started to force at the kickoff but could not hold the pace. The Victoria forwards got away and Camis registered. A little later the same player repeated the performance and when half time was called the north side boys had things

Putting Finishing Touches on Practices—Large Crowd Should Attend

Both the Civics and Varsity are putting in the finishing touches on their practices in preparation for the opening game on Thanksgiving Day.

The Civics had their last hard practice yesterday and this afternoon will have a light workout, after which, in all probability, the team will be selected.

There were 18 players in attendance at yesterday's practice, all of whom have worked hard and faithfully. They are shaping up well and some of them have been trained for several positions as they are hardly enough in the squad to make two teams.

The officials for Monday's contest have not yet been selected, but it is probable that Perry Hardley will be one of the men to handle the whistle.

A large crowd is expected at Diamond park on Monday to see the initial rugby contest of the season.

NEW YORK TEAMS ON EVEN TERMS

By Winning Yesterday Yankees Are Tied With National Leaguers

New York, Oct. 10.—Jack Warhop was better than Jeff Tereau yesterday in the second game of the series for the Manhattan championship, the American leaguers winning 2 to 1. The game ended up the series between the Giants and Highlanders. Score: Nationals . . . 010 000 000—1 6 1 Americans . . . 000 000 002—2 8 1 Tereau and Meyers; Warhop and Sweeney.

Cuba Ahead

Chicago, Oct. 10.—The Chicago nationals went into the lead for the city championship yesterday when they defeated their American league opponents 2 to 1. The game was a pitchers' duel between Humphries and Bena. The Americans' errors were costly. The series now stands 2 to 1 in favor of the home team. Score: Nationals . . . 000 200 000—2 4 1 Americans . . . 001 000 000—1 6 1 Humphries and Brennan; Bena, Wolfgang and Schalk.

COAST COMMENT ON MANN TROPHY

Do Not Think They Were Given Fair Shake by Joe Lally.

Did Joe Lally, self appointed chairman of the board of trustees for the D. D. Mann gold cup, exceed his authority when he awarded the trophy and title now held by the V.A.C. team to the Calgary Chinooks? asks the Vancouver Sun.

Lacrosse officials and enthusiasts all over the province are taking the question in view of the announcement from Calgary yesterday that Lally had notified that club that the cup was awarded to them on a technicality, owing to the V.A.C. team having played Reggie Kennel, who held an amateur card, but who was charged by the Alberta Athletic Union officials of being a professional.

Although all data in connection with the Kendall case was committed to the A.A.U. of C. officials at Toronto by Dr. J. G. Davidson, western member of the registration committee, no reply has been received and lacrosse and amateur officials on the coast are inclined to believe that Joe Lally is working off his own hat in declaring the Mann cup forfeited.

Until official advice reach the cupholders no action will be taken with respect to Lally's decision. When they come to hand a special meeting of the Pacific Coast League will be called. The B. C. A. A. U. will also await word from headquarters before calling a meeting.

Seventeen goals to two was the margin by which the Vancouver National lacrosse champions defeated Calgary in the Mann cup series last May, but the weakest team that ever came after the cup has now been placed in the "champion" class by Joe Lally, who alleges that the coast champions transgressed the amateur laws. Thus, players who rank at the bottom of the list become Lally's world's champions.

The Mann cup was won by Vancouver in 1911, and since then has been held by the Vancouver A. C. team. Several eastern teams, including Brampton, St. Catharines, Winnipeg, and Calgary, have played for the trophy, but were beaten decisively.

MOTOR CAR BEATS FAST MAIL TRAIN ON AFRICAN ROAD

Races Natal Mail From Johannesburg to Durban, according to Wins Easily.

VOLUNTARILY STOPPED SAME AS LOCOMOTIVE

Remarkable Endurance Test in Country Where Roads Are Bad and Sandy

An Overland roadster recently performed the feat of beating the fast Natal mail train on the long trip from Johannesburg to Durban, according to dispatches received at the Willys-Overland company from their South African distributors. Despite the hard going encountered throughout the trip, the car succeeded in bettering the time of the train by 8 hours and 20 minutes on the road trip of 410 miles. The trail, which was the first authentic run over the long course, created a lasting impression among South African motorists, the majority of whom declared that it could not be accomplished owing to the terrible road conditions. Public magistrates acted as official timers for the event.

A large crowd saw the arrival of the Overland and the big mail train leave Johannesburg station at 8 o'clock on a Saturday evening. The car started at Durban, the end of the first lap at 1:35 o'clock on the following afternoon, five hours ahead of the train, after making stops at all points where the train was scheduled to stop to take on mail or change engine. At 5:50 on the same day the automobile and the train left simultaneously for the return trip. The Overland reached Johannesburg at 2:40 p.m. on Monday, three hours ahead of the train, which made both trips on schedule.

The distance is equivalent to a trip from New York to Louisville, Ky., which would not be considered particularly noteworthy in the United

"This is why," says Dr. Chinnman A. Herrick, president of Grand colleges. "Germany is fighting for her very existence; France, that she might wipe out the defeats of the past; England, that she might maintain her supremacy gained at Waterloo; Russia, because she sees an opportunity; Austria, that she might have a share while Switzerland through it all remains a little armed camp that has mobilized half a million soldiers to preserve her neutrality."

Suggests New Use for Tax.

T. Gray Courtn, of Norfolk, Va., figures that, if the license tax paid by the owners of Studebaker cars in and about Norfolk were devoted to local improvement, the sum would be just sufficient to provide a complete system of high-grade highways throughout the entire Tidewater Virginia region.

States where automobiles are in general use and roads, for the most part, are in excellent shape. But those who realize the extreme conditions encountered in South Africa declare that the time recorded is remarkable. The roads are rough and sandy, in places becoming merely bush tracks. This in itself discourages long distance automobile runs. In addition, the Overland was delayed by 101 gates marking the boundaries of the large African ranches. The driver was forced to bring the car to a dead stop, dismount, drive through, then stop and close the gate before starting on his way. This involuntary stop at each of the 101 gates was a real nuisance.

The run is considered a great test of skill and endurance on the part of the driver, who handled the wheel from start to finish throughout the round trip.

AUTOMOBILES PLAY BIG PART IN WAR

Germany Has Made Great Use of Automobiles in Present Contest

PLEASURE CARS ARE USED Scientific American Article States Benzol or Denatured Alcohol Good Fuels

Too little credit has undoubtedly been given to the automobile for its part in the effective operation of great armies, as illustrated by the sensational dash into France by the German army; and something of the automobile organization that kept supplies moving, and enabled reinforcements to the points where they were needed, is told in an interesting article in the special war number of the Scientific American of October 3, which contains the following facts:

In Germany, military motor trucks, complete with trailers, to the number of 1150 were under subsidy on April 1 this year. In addition, the empire had 14700 commercial cars, capable of being converted into military vehicles. The order of mobilization placed at the disposal of the German general staff approximately 15,000 delivery cars not counting the trailers. In addition the German army comprised at the beginning of this year the following "special" vehicles: 50 completely equipped motor ambulances, 600 motor-driven cabs, and 4 powerful trailers, which have been especially useful in drawing the new 42 centimeter siege guns of the artillery. About 200 armored cars, fitted with Maxim guns; 15 searchlight cars; and a number of automobile repair wagons make up the remainder.

The government has commandeered the majority of all the pleasure cars in the empire, amounting to probably 60,000 vehicles, for use by officers at the front, and for rapid communication in the rear of the army. Whole regiments are reported to have been shifted in a matter of hours by means of big fleets of motor cars to points 60 and 100 miles distant. In addition, there are with the army more than 100,000 cyclists and motorcyclists.

The shortage of gasoline, which has been the subject of much comment in the American daily press during the past week, is of little importance, as all the military vehicles can be run with equal facility on benzol and denatured alcohol, both of which fuels are available in considerable quantity in Germany.

STORY OF EVENTS LEADING TO SIEGE OF BELGIAN CITY

Germans Suggested Belgium Keep Army in Antwerp During War.

PROPOSAL INDIGNANTLY REJECTED BY DEFENDERS

Few Germans Cross River by Swimming, But Only to Meet Death.

London, Oct. 10.—(3-40 a.m.)—The correspondent of the Post at Antwerp in describing the events leading up to the present situation at Antwerp says: "About a month ago the German commanders began to realize the danger of having the Belgian army occupying a fortified position which continually threatened the German line of communication."

"The Germans threw out feelers to ascertain if Belgium would agree to the present situation at Antwerp. They kept their army in Antwerp in return for the German promise not to attack the town."

"Rejected All Proposal. "The Belgians indignantly rejected all such proposals and replied by gallant sorties, which, however, failed to completely succeed. The taking of Antwerp by the Germans was due to the necessity for an aggressive campaign against the Belgians which began after further German proposals for an agreement were rejected by the Belgians."

"Accordingly the Germans brought up some of their heavy field pieces and opened with the bombardment of Antwerp. For a week afterwards the Germans each day bombarded some open town outside of Antwerp with the idea of drawing the Belgian population from these villages would check the morale of the Antwerp garrison."

"Fled in Panic. "On Tuesday Fort Woevre St. Catharine was put out of commission. Later on the same day Fort Woevre St. Catharine was damaged and became ineffective. Whatever the German shells struck they destroyed. On Thursday a German shell struck Antwerp, forcing the garrison to flee. The German attack being successful. Up to this time the German had been defeated but now be-

1915 Overland

Real Riding Comfort

NEW underslung rear springs make the Overland one of the easiest and most comfortable riding cars in the world.

Being unusually long and of a new underslung design these rear springs have unusual flexibility.

The Overland type of rear springs is illustrated above.

See how the springs are placed under the axle; that they are long, have a very wide opening, and are of generous dimensions. Notice that the frame is dropped which makes possible a much lower hung and more graceful body. The road clearance is not affected.

The wide opening of the springs permits great up-and-down play—the maximum of flexibility.

These springs are unusually long; in fact are longer, in proportion to the wheel base, than the springs used on most of the highest priced cars. This means a much more cushioned action.

The Overland swivel seat gives absolutely free movement of the springs, prevents binding and reduces possibility of breakage.

In short the exceptional elasticity of the Overland underslung rear springs makes the car ride with perfect ease and absolute smoothness under all conditions.

Shock absorbers are useless.

The 1915 Overland has grace, style, a beautiful finish, smooth riding qualities and every modern comfort and convenience. It comes complete.

Our dealer will be glad to demonstrate its merits at any time and place you appoint.

Orders are now being taken for immediate delivery.

gan to water. Friday the bombardment of Liège continued and the authorities began to consider the possibility of Antwerp being occupied by the enemy.

"Save Fighting Continues. "On Saturday the situation showed slight advance by the Belgians and on Sunday the German attack seemed to be slackening in its intensity. On Monday the German artillery made a furious attack on Liège and the city council urged the governor to continue the defense of the city without regard to property interests."

"On Tuesday there were other attacks on Liège and at one point the Germans got a handful of men across the river by swimming, but they only came to be killed. The German artillery attack was rather diffuse and the position was cheerful at nightfall, though sawge fighting continued at Liège."

Oakland Makes Clean Run. In a recent endurance run from San Francisco to Lake Tahoe (seven and a half miles), a distance of 120 miles, a new stock model 37 Oakland touring car made a clean record. This car had been run only a few miles before entering the contest and the only preparation made was to oil it up and fill the gas tank and radiator. Not a single adjustment was made on the entire trip.

EDMONTON IN BRIEF

The usual Scotch Dance will be held in the Separate School hall on Thursday, October 15. Dancing at 9 o'clock. The surplus will be given to the patriotic fund.

According to Edmonton doctors and men who "know," Edmonton is only popularly known as the "city of the war." In fact, they state that since the beginning of the war, not one female child has been born in the city; the reason for this being as they state, one of nature's great laws, where the mind of the mother is focused strongly upon one subject, the subject in this case being the men gone to the war, and all things pertaining to the war in which so many men are actively taking part. Alderman East will address the members of the Derraet club in the Craigmore block on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock on the occasion of the civic government. Ladies and gentlemen interested are respectfully invited to attend.

A. G. Ridgeway will tell the story of the British empire in an address in the auditorium of the old "Grand" street Presbyterian church Sunday at 2:30. A thanksgiving supper will be served by the Ladies aid at the First Scandinavian Lutheran church, corner of Willard and Gallagher streets, near the Technical school on Monday between 5 and 8 p.m.

The members of Acadia Lodge, No. 11, A. and A. M. will meet at the Muenich hall, Richards block, Whyte avenue, on Sunday afternoon at 1:45 for the purpose of attending the funeral of the late brother J. G. Tipton. All members of the fraternity are cordially invited.

AUTO TIRES STOLEN IN WEST END, FOUND WITH WELL-KNOWN CITY YOUTH

During the last two weeks there have been a number of complaints from residents in the west end of the city that the extra automobile tires on cars have been stolen, while the machines were standing alone on the curb.

A number of detectives were placed on the case and although as yet they have not arrested the thieves they have found some of the missing tires. They were found in the possession of Sam Barnes, a well known youth in town. He has been placed under arrest and is facing a charge of having stolen goods in his possession. As yet he has given no explanation as to how he received the tires. He will appear for a preliminary hearing on Saturday, October 11, and by that time it is probable some of the thieves will also be under arrest as the police have some strong clues as to the identity of the culprits.

EDMONTONIAN HAS SAME OPINION OF WAR AS SHERMAN

Emile Paquette, Driven From Paris, Arrives Here With Wife and Child

GRAPHICALLY TELLS HORRORS OF CONFLICT

Germany Will Have to Pay Dearly For Having Aroused British Lion

Compelled to close his house at two hours' notice, and leave it, probably to the tender mercies of the German invader, in order to seek safety for his wife and child, Emile Paquette, a former Edmontonian, who for the past four years has been employed in the Canadian immigration office in Paris, has just returned to the city, having taken passage to Canada on the Canadian Northern liner, Royal Edward. To a Capital reported who saw him at the Cecil hotel, he painted a vivid picture of Paris during the days when the enemy was almost at its gates, and when bombs were being dropped by daring German aviators.

"I was living with my wife and child in the suburbs," he said. "September 2, I received orders from the military authorities to evacuate within two hours, as my home was to be used by the line of fire of both the enemy and of our own over force if the German advanced any further. I packed the door, and we stepped out with the clothes we wore, and the smallest possible bundle of actual necessities for my wife and child. But it was impossible to find even an empty room to stay."

"Accordingly, I took my folks to my office, where for three nights we were as best we could. It was not out of the ordinary for me to be there for two hours, as my home was to be used by the line of fire of both the enemy and of our own over force if the German advanced any further. I packed the door, and we stepped out with the clothes we wore, and the smallest possible bundle of actual necessities for my wife and child. But it was impossible to find even an empty room to stay."

"Now, of course, they are better prepared for such visitors, for machine guns have been mounted on the Eiffel tower and on the top of the Eiffel tower, and the city is under a constant bombardment. I had a good view of him when he was attempting to get on the Lazare station at one time, when soldiers on horse foot were aiming at him with rifles, he swooped down gracefully to within about 100 feet of the big glass dome, then circled and gradually mounted until he was out of range of rifle and machine guns which meanwhile had been trained on him. But his aim was just on a sort of high angle of fire, for the bomb intended for the big station dropped in the street several hundred yards from him."

"When General Frere arrived in the city from England, 200,000 Frenchmen crowded around and cheered him in the most enthusiastic manner. You could hear his singing a mile away, and women fought and struggled for a chance to throw flowers into his carriage or even in front of the horses."

"I saw the first train arrive that brought 3,000 Belgians who had fled in terror from the Germans. Some were slightly wounded and nearly all had lost their friends. The terror in many cases had been frozen into their features."

"We took the train the next day to Dieppe. We found the little town in great excitement. I shall never forget a meal we had there, in a low room on the water front. Sawdust covered the floor and everything was dirty. On one side of me was an old channel fisherman in oilskins, and on the other the most dignified old British aristocrat, who surveyed the surroundings through his monocle without permitting a muscle of his face to betray his opinion of what he saw."
